MOTION FOR ATTORNEY'S FEES AND EXPENSES AND CLASS REPRESENTATIVE SERVICE AWARDS

Class Representatives Black Tortuga Group, LLC and Paul Tessier, Co-Trustee of the Anne T. Tessier Family Trust (collectively “Class Representatives”), for the Class and derivatively on behalf of NP Skyloft DST (the “Trust”), file this Motion for Award of Attorney’s Fees and Costs and Class Representative Service Awards from a Settlement Fund established by a post-verdict settlement with Burgundy 523 Offshore Fund, Ltd., Axonic Special Opportunities SBL Master Fund LP, ACO Skyloft Manager LLC, Axonic Credit Opportunities Master Fund LP, Axonic Capital LLC, Clayton DiGiacinto, (the “Axonic Defendants” or collectively “Axonic”), as follows:

The Parties are engaged in litigation styled NP Skyloft DST et al. v. Burgundy 523 Offshore Fund, Ltd., Cause No, D-1-GN-21-000097, before the 261st Judicial District Court of Travis County, Texas (“Original Action”) in which certain investors asserted claims arising out of the management of the Trust and the sale of the real property owned by the Trust.

After a three-week trial, the jury reached a verdict in the Original Action on May 11, 2022. On October 13, 2022, the Court, on motions for entry of judgment, indicated its intent to enter judgment against Axonic in favor of the Trust in the amount of $4,250,000.¹

Before the entry of judgment and after a day-long mediation, the Parties reached an agreement to resolve the dispute on August 22, 2024. This agreement set forth in a Stipulation of Settlement and Releases (“Settlement Stipulation”) states in relevant part:

1. Class Representatives shall file a Class Action Petition (for settlement purposes only) seeking certification of a class of “All Person(s) who purchased or otherwise acquired beneficial interests in NP Skyloft, DST, a Delaware statutory trust, and held such interests at any point from November 7, 2018 to the Effective Date of the Settlement Stipulation.” Settlement Stipulation, Section 1;
2. Axonic will pay a total amount of $9,000,000 to establish a Settlement Fund, allocated to full and final settlement of all derivative claims by the Trust and direct claims by Class Members (the “Derivative Claims Settlement” and “Direct Claims Settlement”) against Axonic, Id., Sections 3(b), (c);
3. $2,500,000 of the Settlement Fund will be subject to a holdback pending resolution of certain covered claims, to the extent any are brought, Id. Section 3(d);
4. Class Counsel “will apply to the Court for an award of attorney’s fees equal to 30% of the Settlement Fund, together with such expenses incurred as are approved by the Court for reimbursement, subject to approval by the Court,” to be paid from the Settlement Fund subject to Court approval. Id., Section 5(a); and
5. The Class Representatives appointed in the Preliminary Approval Order will be entitled to an incentive payment of $5,000 each for their service, to be paid from the Settlement Fund subject to Court approval. Id., Section 5(c).

On August 27, 2024, in the Original Action, the Court entered preliminary approval of the Settlement Stipulation through a Preliminary Class Action Settlement Approval which (1) granted preliminary approval of the settlement with Axonic; (2) certified a Class for settlement purposes only; (3) appointed Class Representatives and Class Counsel; (4) appointed the Administrator of the Settlement; (5) approved the form and manner of notice to the Class Members (“Notice”); and (6) set a Fairness Hearing on December 5, 2024. Id.

The Administrator served mail and email notice approved by the Court on each of the approximately 260 members of the Class, which described the attorney's fees and expenses for which Class Counsel would seek approval.

On October 21, 2024, the deadline for exclusion requests to the Direct Claims Settlement and objections to the Derivative Claims Settlement passed. No exclusion requests were filed. One objection by Class Member Patenaude Properties, LLC ("Patenaude") was timely filed and has not been withdrawn. It requests that "at a minimum, that [Class] counsel's share of the Axonic settlement be reduced to 20%" in light the pre-trial settlement in the Liquidation Plan with the Nelson Parties. It further objects that the terms of the Settlement are "so exceedingly complex that they are virtually incomprehensible."

Class Representatives and Class Counsel now move for approval of (1) payment of the 30% attorney's fee set forth in the Settlement Stipulation, (2) payment of $163,472.24 in expenses incurred by Class Counsel, and (3) payment of $5,000 service awards for each of Class Representatives, each to be paid from the Settlement Fund to be paid by Axonic. Axonic does not oppose this Motion.

II. REQUEST FOR FEES AND EXPENSES

Class Counsel seek approval of a 30% fee on all sums paid by Axonic, to be paid one-half (15%) to George Brothers Kincaid & Horton, L.L.P. ("GBKH") and one-half (15%) to Brownlie Hansen LLP, as follows:

- Attorney's fees to GBKH of 15% of $6,500,000, i.e. $975,000, payable within 30 days of the Effective Date of the Settlement.

- Attorney's fees to Brownlie Hansen of 15% of $6,500,000, i.e. $975,000, payable within 30 days of the Effective Date of the Settlement.
- Attorney's fees to GBKH of 15% of remaining Holdback Funds upon the Holdback Termination Date.
- Costs to GBKH of $77,506.22, payable within 30 days of the Effective Date.
- Attorney's fees to Brownlie Hansen of 15% of remaining Holdback Funds upon the Holdback Termination Date.
- Costs to Brownlie Hansen of $85,966.02, payable within 30 days of the Effective Date of the Settlement.

In support of the Motion, Class Representatives submit the following:

1. The Declaration of D. Douglas Brothers (Exhibit 1);
2. Time and expense records of George Brothers Kincaid & Horton, LLP ("GBKH");
3. The Declaration of Robert W. Brownlie (Exhibit 2);
4. Time and Expense Records of Brownlie Hanson, LLP ("BH") and Miller Lloyd P.C. ("ML")

III. ARGUMENT AND AUTHORITIES

The attorney's fee established by the Settlement Stipulation is reasonable and will adequately compensate Class Counsel for their efforts in prosecuting the actions against Axonic and the substantial benefits achieved for the Trust and the Class. Class Counsel conducted a three-week jury trial of the derivative claims, in addition to rigorously pursuing class and mass actions of direct securities claims in the Related Actions in California against Axonic. These efforts resulted in substantial benefit for the Trust and the Class. For this reason, the Court should exercise its discretion to approve the fees and expenses requested under a percentage calculation, cross-checked by a lodestar analysis.

A. Delaware and Texas law support an attorney's fee award from the Settlement Fund paid by Axonic.

Plaintiffs pleaded for attorney's fees in both the Original Action for derivative claims on behalf of the Trust and in the Supplemental Class Action Petition for direct securities claims.² There are several bases for an award of attorney's fees from the Settlement Fund under both Delaware law (which applies the derivative claims on behalf of the Delaware Statutory Trust) and Texas law: (1) an express statutory authorization, 12 Del. Code §3816(d), (2) the common benefit or common fund doctrine, and (3) the Derivative and Class Action rules, Delaware Chancery Court Rules 23.1(e) and 23(g) and Texas Rule of Civil Procedure 42(h) and (i).

First, the Delaware Code specifically authorizes an award of attorney's fees and expenses in a derivative action on behalf of a Delaware Statutory Trust. 12 Delaware Code, section 3816(d) provides, in part:

If a derivative action is successful, in whole or in part, or if anything is received by a statutory trust as a result of a judgment, compromise or settlement of any such action, the Court may award the plaintiff reasonable expenses, including reasonable attorney's fees.

Second, it is well established under Delaware law and Texas law that the Court may use its equitable powers to award fees outside of an express "statutory authorization" in circumstances that include, but are not limited to, the presence of a "common fund created for the benefit of others.”³ Under the common fund doctrine, “a litigant or a lawyer who recovers a common fund for the benefit of persons other than himself or his client is entitled to a reasonable attorney’s fee from the fund as a whole.”⁴ “Typically, successful derivative or class action suits which result in the recovery of money or property wrongfully diverted from the corporation ... are viewed as fund creating actions.”⁵ To the extent applicable, Texas law is consistent in awarding fees based on a common benefit to a class.⁶

B. Attorney’s fees of Thirty Percent of the Settlement Fund under the Common Fund Doctrine Should be Awarded.

There are two methods of calculating fee awards in common benefit cases: the percentage of the fund method and the lodestar method.⁷ Under a percentage of the fund method, courts calculate fees based on a reasonable percentage of the common fund.⁸ The lodestar method multiplies hours reasonably expended against a reasonable hourly rate to produce a “lodestar,” which can then be adjusted through application of a “multiplier,” to account for additional factors such as the contingent nature of the case and the quality of an attorneys’ work.⁹

When the benefit is quantifiable, such as where the plaintiff’s litigation secured a significant financial benefit for the corporation that they probably could not have achieved otherwise, Delaware courts typically apply a “percentage of the benefit” approach to awarding attorney’s fees rather than lodestar.¹⁰ Delaware law relies on the Sugarland factors in an award of fees. In Sugarland, the Delaware Supreme Court expressly rejected the use of time expended (i.e. lodestar) as the principal basis for determining fees awarded to derivative plaintiff’s counsel.¹¹ Instead, Delaware law holds that the benefit achieved by the litigation is the “common yardstick by which a plaintiff’s counsel is compensated in a successful derivative action.”¹²

Thus, the factors that a Court should consider and weigh in making an award of attorney fees under Delaware law are: 1) the results achieved; 2) the time and effort of counsel; 3) the relative complexities of the litigation; 4) any contingency factor; and 5) the standing and ability of counsel involved.¹³ Here, each of these factors support an award of fees.

1. Benefit achieved.

The Sugarland factor that is given the greatest emphasis is the size of the fund created, because a “common fund is itself the measure of success ... [and] represents the benchmark from which a reasonable fee will be awarded.”¹⁴ In determining the amount of a reasonable fee award, Sugarland calls for an award of attorney’s fees based upon a percentage of the benefit.¹⁵ Here, Plaintiffs’ co-counsel, working collaboratively, obtained successfully tried the case to a jury, received a favorable verdict, and then, in settlement, nearly doubled the amount recovered.

Delaware case law supports a wide range of reasonable percentages for attorney’s fees, but generally speaking, the Court of Chancery has a history of awarding lower ¹⁵ Texas similarly recognizes the “substantial benefit” test. Section 21.561 of the Texas Business Organizations Code provides that in a derivative proceeding, the trial court may require the company to pay the expenses the plaintiff incurred, including attorneys’ fees, “if the court finds the proceeding has resulted in a substantial benefit to the [corporation.]” J.C. Penney Co., Inc. v. Ozanne, 453 S.W.3d 509, 512 (Tex. App.—Dallas 2014, pet. denied) citing Tex. Bus. Org. Code § 21.561(b)(1). Texas law also recognizes the Court’s ability to award “reasonable and necessary attorneys’ fees as are equitable and just” in equitable claims for declaratory judgment. See Tex. Civ. Prac. & Rem. Code 37.001.

percentages of the benefit where cases have settled before trial.¹⁶ When a case settles early, the Court of Chancery tends to award 10–15% of the monetary benefit conferred.¹⁷ When a case settles after the plaintiffs have engaged in meaningful litigation efforts, typically including multiple depositions and some level of motion practice, fee awards in the Court of Chancery range from 15–25% of the monetary benefits conferred.¹⁸ Higher percentages are warranted when cases progress to a post-trial adjudication.¹⁹ In the litigation by Plaintiffs against the Axonic Parties, the ‘benefit achieved’ test substantiates a fee of at least 30% of the Settlement Fund.

For this reason, Class Member Patenaude Properties LLC’s objection to the proposed attorney’s fees should be denied. Patenaude points to the 20% attorney’s fee in the pre-trial settlement with the Nelson Parties to argue the attorney's fee here against Axonic should be reduced to 20%. However, the Liquidation Plan with Nelson was achieved without the necessity of trial; the settlement with Axonic necessitated a three-week trial of the derivative claims as well as a multiple class and mass securities actions in federal court in California to achieve the amount of the Settlement Fund. Under these circumstances and Sugarland, the 30% fee is justified.

2. Complexity of Litigation

Courts have held that the presence of following factors is indicative of a more complex litigation for which an award for attorney's fees on the higher range is more likely to be supported.²⁰

- the legal issues were complex;
- factual issues were particularly challenging;
- lead counsel obtained and reviewed in excess of 800,000 pages of documents from defendants and numerous non-parties;
- to obtain, review, and analyze these documents required significant effort, including extensive and numerous follow-up communications with the producing parties to ensure timely and comprehensive productions;
- Obtaining documents required third party practice;
- Piecing together the chronology required mixing and matching documents from multiple sources; and
- Counsel had to engage in careful detective work to understand what happened, given the wholesale assertions of privilege.

Here, again, as in Activision Blizzard, the facts indicate the complexity of this case.²¹ The factual and legal issues were challenging; the documents reviewed, produced, admitted at trial were copious; the briefing on factual and legal issues at summary judgment and post-verdict stage was comprehensive. The Related Actions required copious briefing on motions to dismiss and concerning the legal issues of secondary liability for Axonic for securities fraud. The “complexity” factor substantiates a fee in the higher range.

²⁰ Activision Blizzard, 124 A.3d at 1273.

²¹ As the trial judge that presided over the trial and post-judgment briefing, the Court can take judicial notice of these facts.

3. Contingent representation

Another secondary Sugarland factor that may be considered in determining the amount of award in a common fund case is the contingent nature of the representation. It is the “public policy of Delaware to reward risk-taking in the interests of shareholders.”²² As the Activision Blizzard Court explained:

[Lead] Counsel faced risk in pursuing a damages remedy, including the realistic possibility that [Lead] Counsel would receive nothing for their time and effort.²³ The prosecution of the litigation by co-lead counsel was a largely undiversified, entrepreneurial undertaking [by] both small firms, with two partners and three partners respectively. Two partners from each firm were deeply involved in all stages of the litigation and took or defended all of the depositions. Both firms had limited ability to work on other cases and turned away potential new business.²⁴

Based on these circumstances, the Court determined “[t]his case involved true contingency risk. This factor supports an award at the higher end of the range.”²⁵ As demonstrated by the Declaration of Mr. Brothers and Mr. Brownlie, both of their firms are small in size, their partners were involved in all stages of the litigation and conducted all of the pre-trial and trial work. In addition, Mr. Brothers personally guarantees his firm’s line of credit, which financed case expenses. Both firms had limited ability to work on other cases and turned away potential new business, and carried a substantial risk in bringing suit. The contingent representation factor, too, justifies a substantial award of fees.

4. Time and Effort of Co-Counsel

The time and effort expended by co-counsel serves as a cross-check on the reasonableness of a fee award.²⁶ Just as it sounds, this factor has two separate but related components: (i) time and (ii) effort.²⁷ As explained in more detail in the lodestar discussion below, the time and effort expended by Lead Counsel justifies the fees sought. In Activision Blizzard, the Court explained that the time (i.e. hours) that counsel claim to have worked is of secondary importance. As the court explained below, more important than hours is effort, as in what derivative co-counsel actually did:²⁸

As demonstrated by the discussion of the complexities of the litigation, Derivative Lead Counsel did a lot. And they did it all under the pressure of a schedule designed to get the case to trial within one year. Lead Counsel did not throw a horde of junior timekeepers at the matter that would have inflated the overall number of hours. It created efficiencies for the four senior lawyers who comprised the trial team to take all of the depositions, work with the expert, and immerse themselves in all facets of the case.²⁹

For these reasons, the Activision Blizzard court held that “[w]hile the size of the award implies a generous hourly rate, in this case it was justified by the effort.”³⁰ Here, too, a sizeable award is justified. This Original Action was litigated and tried in under two years, with dozens of depositions, hundreds of exhibits, two summary judgment hearings with copious legal briefing, and an almost three-week trial followed by extensive post-verdict motions. GBKH expended over a thousand hours in prosecuting this case. On an hourly rate basis, without any multiplier, GBKH incurred a total of $956,332.31 (and counting) in fees. Brownlie Hansen and Miller Lloyd similarly expended countless hours prosecuting this and the Related Actions, and on an hourly basis without any multiplier, incurred a total of $1,803,132.00 and $426,285.00, respectively (for a total of $2,229,417.00) on this and the Related Actions. The request for 30% in fees here, then, is wholly consistent with the actual hours spent multiplied by a reasonable hourly rate.

5. Standing and Ability of Counsel

No one has disputed the standing or ability of Plaintiffs' co-counsel to handle this litigation. D. Douglas Brothers and Robert Brownlie are both experienced trial lawyers with experience in class, derivative and Delaware fiduciary litigation, and Jenny Lloyd has lengthy experience in Travis County District Courts. Despite the fact that Class Counsel was by far outnumbered by counsel for Defendants, Plaintiffs' co-counsel brought expertise, initiative, and ingenuity to the case causing Plaintiffs to prevail at trial against Axonic resulting in the Settlement Stipulation.

C. A Percentage Fee May Also be Awarded under Del. Ch. Ct. R. 23.1 and 23(g) and Tex. R. Civ P. 42(h) and (i).

Attorney's fees and costs may be awarded in a certified class action or derivative action under the derivative and class action rules. Del. Ch. Ct. R. 23(g) states that "the Court may award reasonable attorney's fees and expenses to class counsel." Del. Ch. Ct. R. 23.1(e)(1) states "in a derivative action, the Court may award reasonable attorney's fees and expenses to derivative counsel." Tex. R. Civ. P. 42(h) states "in an action certified as a class action, the court may award attorney fees ... authorized by law or by agreement of the parties." By obtaining payment of the Settlement Fund by Axonic on behalf of the Class and Trust, Class Counsel has earned a fee.³¹ Plaintiffs seek an award of attorney's fees under the percentage method, with a lodestar cross-check, in line with the prevailing class and derivative actions rules in Delaware and Texas.³²

The two methods for awarding fees in class actions are (1) the percentage method, in which the Court awards fees as a reasonable percentage of the common fund made available to the class and (2) the lodestar method, in which the Court computes fees by multiplying the number of hours reasonably expended on the litigation by a reasonable hourly rate and, in its discretion, applying an upward or downward multiplier where

Van Gemert*, 444 U.S. 472, 478 (1980) (noting that, since the 1880s, the Supreme Court "has recognized consistently that a litigant or a lawyer who recovers a common fund for the benefit of persons other than himself or his client is entitled to a reasonable attorney's fee from the fund as a whole").

appropriate.³³ The Court has discretion as to which method is appropriate in a particular case.³⁴

The focal point of the Court’s analysis in determining a reasonable fee is the “benefit created by counsel’s efforts.”³⁵ When the relief is monetary, the fees must be proportional to the class benefit. And they are in this case. Class Counsel obtained a settlement of up to $9 million. The requested fee award is 30% of the Settlement Fund—within the range of percentages approved by Delaware and Texas courts.³⁶ Additionally, each of the enhancement factors used to adjust the benchmark is present in the case presented.

After extensive publication of the Settlement Agreement and all of its terms, only one Class Member and no governmental entity has challenged it. The Axonic Defendants do not object to the amount of fees or expenses.³⁷ All of these factors support a percentage-fee benchmark of 30%, within the range of percentage-fee recoveries that have been approved by Delaware and Texas courts in similar derivative and class action cases after trial. The award is also confirmed by the lodestar calculation, which would roughly equate to 30% at reasonable or prevailing hourly rates for Class Counsel.

D. Plaintiffs have Submitted Proof Sufficient under a Lodestar and Multiplier as well.

As described above, an award in the amount of a percentage of the Settlement Fund is appropriate under Delaware and Texas law. Plaintiffs have also complied with Texas practice and Tex. R. Civ. P. 42(i) in their proof. In General Motors Corp. v. Bloyed, the Texas Supreme Court observed there are two different methods for calculating attorney's fees class actions: the lodestar method and the percentage method.³⁸ The percentage method "is used when the value of the settlement [or judgment] is subject to reasonably clear estimation."³⁹ Here, the value of the Settlement Fund is set, and a percentage if appropriate. A lodestar calculation would result in a similar amount. Which method should be used in awarding attorney's fees in a class action is left "to the sound discretion of the trial court."⁴⁰

The lodestar method is “the number of hours worked multiplied by the prevailing hourly rates.”⁴¹ Under the lodestar method, the determination of what constitutes a reasonable attorney’s fee involves two steps. First the court must determine the reasonable hours spent by counsel in the case and a reasonable hourly rate for such work. The court then multiplies the number of such hours by the applicable rate, the product of which is the base fee or “lodestar.” This figure is then adjusted for such factors as the size or value of the recovery, the complexity of the litigation, the expertise of counsel, and the degree to which the attorney was precluded from accepting other work (the “multiplier”).⁴²

The Texas Supreme Court in El Apple I, Ltd. identified the following non-exclusive list of factors to be considered when awarding attorney’s fees in a class or derivative action pursuant to Tex. R. Civ. P. 42(i)(1):

- (1) the time and labor required, the novelty and difficulty of the questions involved, and the skill requisite to perform the legal service properly;
- (2) the likelihood, if apparent to the client, that the acceptance of the particular employment will preclude other employment by the lawyer;
- (3) the fee customarily charged in the locality for similar legal services;
- (4) the amount involved and the results obtained;
- (5) the time limitations imposed by the client or by the circumstances;
- (6) the nature and length of the professional relationship with the client;
- (7) the experience, reputation, and ability of the lawyer or lawyers performing the services; and
- (8) whether the fee is fixed or contingent on results obtained or uncertainty of collection before the legal services have been rendered.⁴³

In calculating a lodestar, “contemporaneous billing records are not required to prove that the requested fees are reasonable and necessary. Nevertheless, billing records are strongly encouraged to prove the reasonableness and necessity of requested fees when those elements are contested.”⁴⁴

The fee and expense records attached to the Brownlie and Brothers’ Declarations demonstrate the reasonableness of the fees requested and comply with the Rohrmoos-encouraged proof. GBKH incurred a total amount billed of $956,332.31 in attorney’s fees (of which $902,326 remain unreimbursed). Brownlie Hansen and Miller Lloyd incurred total amount billed of $1,803,132.00 and $426,285.00, respectively (for a total of $2,229,417.00) on this and the Related Actions, of which $1,306,172.00 remains unreimbursed. Even were this Court to apply a lodestar calculation, the fees of GBKH, BH and ML equal or exceed the percentage calculation, and thus a fee of $1.95 million would be supported.

When a percentage-of-recovery method is used for awarding fees in a common-fund case, it is appropriate, but not required, to cross-check the award using the lodestar method. “Hours worked are considered as a crosscheck to guard against windfall awards”⁴⁵ Here, the 30% of the Settlement Fund recovery compares favorably to the lodestar calculations provided by Class Counsel. Tallying up all the lodestar calculations from Class Counsel, the total attorney's fees would have been $4,063,510 and unreimbursed total is $2,212,498. The lodestar calculation should further assure the Court that 30% of the Settlement Fund is an appropriate and reasonable fee for Class Counsel under all of the circumstances.

⁴⁴ Rohrmoos Venture v. UTSW DVA Healthcare, LLP, 578 S.W.3d 469, 501 (Tex. 2019)(internal citations omitted).

⁴⁵ In re Dell Techs. Inc. Class V S'holders Litig., 300 A.3d 679, 692 (Del. Ch. 2023), as revised (Aug. 21, 2023), aff'd, No. 349, 2023, 2024 WL 3811075 (Del. Aug. 14, 2024) (quoting Olson v. EV3, Inc., 2011 WL 704409, at *8 (Del. Ch. Feb. 21, 2011)).

In sum, under either a percentage or lodestar calculation, Class Counsel should be awarded fees of $1,950,000 from the initial distribution. Determining the percentage of the Settlement Fund to award is a matter within the Court's discretion and will not be disturbed on appeal absence abuse of such discretion.⁴⁶

E. The Expenses are Fully Documented and Recoverable.

The Settlement Stipulation and Notice provided to Class Members states that Class Counsel can seek Court approval to recover expenses from the Settlement Fund.⁴⁷ Typically, an attorney who has created a common fund for the benefit of the class is entitled to reimbursement of reasonable litigation expenses from that fund.⁴⁸ Class Counsel has incurred $172,136.27 in as yet unreimbursed expenses they have advanced on behalf of the Class that are to be paid out of the Settlement Fund as follows:

Class Counsels' Firms	Expenses
D. Douglas Brothers (George & Brothers; George Brothers Kincaid & Horton, LLP)	$77,506.22
Brownlie Hansen	$85,966.02
TOTAL	$163,472.24

⁴⁶ Id.; Crouch v. Tenneco, Inc., 853 S.W.2d 643, 646 (Tex. App.—Waco 1993, writ denied).

Each Class Counsel has proven the amount and necessity of these expenses.⁴⁹ Class Representatives therefore respectfully request that the Court award them their attorneys' expenses from the Settlement Fund.

F. Service Awards are Appropriate for Services Provided by the Class Representatives and Do Not Raise Indicia of Potential Conflict.

Incentive awards to the Class Members that served as Class Representatives are appropriate here.⁵⁰ Such awards are intended to compensate the Class Representative for work undertaken on behalf of the class, “are fairly typical in class action cases,” and do not “create an impermissible conflict between class members and their representatives.”⁵¹ Here, the representative of Black Tortuga LLC testified at the trial of the Original Action and was present for much of the trial, and both representatives closely reviewed the Settlement Stipulation. There is no indicia of conflict, since the service award is tied directly to the benefits provided to the class and is a fixed figure, not a sliding scale. The Class Representatives have no separate personal financial interest in settling for a particular number, as all Class Members will recover under the same formula and receive a pro rata share of the Settlement Fund. In addition, the service award is not contingent on the Class Representatives' approval of the Settlement. For this reason, the service awards of $5,000 per Class Representative to be paid from the Settlement Fund should be approved.

PRAYER

For the foregoing reasons, Plaintiffs and Class Representatives pray this court direct the Administrator to distribute funds from the Settlement Fund as follows:

- (a) To George Brothers Kincaid & Horton for attorney's fees in the amount of $975,000.00;
- (b) To George Brothers Kincaid & Horton for expenses in the amount of $77,506.22;
- (c) To Brownlie Hansen for attorney's fees in the amount of $975,000.00;
- (d) To Brownlie Hansen for expenses in the amount of $85,966.02;
- (e) To Black Tortuga Group, LLC a service fee of $5,000.00; and
- (f) To Paul Tessier, Co-Trustee of the Anne T. Tessier Family Trust a service fee of $5,000.00.

and for any further relief to which Class Representatives are entitled.

Respectfully submitted,

UNSWORN DECLARATION OF D. DOUGLAS BROTHERS

A. Background and Qualifications.

1. My name is D. Douglas Brothers. I am an attorney licensed to practice law in the State of Texas. I serve as counsel-of-record and lead counsel for the Schiffman Intervenors and as counsel-of-record and co-lead counsel for the Tessier and Black Tortuga Class Representatives in the subject litigation. I make this statement based on my personal knowledge and I declare under the penalty of perjury that the following is correct:

2. This declaration is submitted pursuant Stipulation of Settlement between the Class Representatives and the Axonic Defendants to submit requests for attorneys' fees to the Court, and the Court's Preliminary Approval Order. It is submitted in support of (1) the Motion for Final Approval of the Stipulation of Settlement with the Axonic Defendants and (2) the Motion for Attorneys' Fees and Expenses and Class Representative Service Awards. My CV is attached as Exhibit "1." I have not authored any publications in the last 10 years. I have not, to the best of my recollection, testified as a retained expert in the past 4 years, other than as an attorney of record on the issue of attorney's fees.

3. The subject matter of my testimony is the reasonable and necessary attorneys' fees and costs incurred by the Intervenors and Class Representatives.

4. My opinions are based on the terms of the engagement, applicable Delaware and Texas law as discussed below, the State Bar Rule 1.04(b) factors, and the expenses actually incurred by the Intervenors and Class Representatives.

5. I have more than thirty years of experience in a wide variety of complex litigation matters, representing both plaintiffs and defendants.

6. I am a partner in the Austin, Texas firm of George Brothers Kincaid and Horton LLP (“GBKH”). The firm currently has two partners, and two contract or ‘of counsel’ attorneys. The firm handles complex litigation including business disputes and litigation on behalf of investors. A substantial portion of the firm’s practice is representing claimants on a contingency fee basis.

7. I was retained to represent the first of what is now known as the Schiffman Intervenors in February of 2021. Eventually, I undertook representation of numerous Intervenors, including the Class Representatives. The terms of the engagement were a contingent fee arrangement of 35% with the firm advancing expenses.

8. As is customary, the professionals at my firm recorded their time in the same manner as they would were the matter billed at an hourly rate. The billing records reflect the name of the professional, the task, the billing rate, and the time expended. These billing records, lightly redacted to remove reference to privileged matters are attached as Exhibit 2 to this Declaration.

9. In addition, the expenses incurred by the firm are recorded in the usual fashion. Such expenses are listed on the attached Exhibit 3.

10. My law firm serves as co-counsel to the Class Representatives with Brownlie Hansen LLP and Miller Lloyd, PC. Pursuant to the agreement of counsel my firm is entitled to one-half of attorneys’ fees awarded (in addition to expenses advanced by my firm).

B. Delaware and Texas Law Control the Fee Award.

11. It is my opinion that Delaware Law controls the award of fees in this case pursuant to 12 Delaware Code, section 3816(d), Del. Ch. Ct. R. 23(g); and Texas Law pursuant to Tex. R. Civ. P, Rule 42(h) and (i)..

C. Application of Common Fund Factors under Delaware and Texas Law.

12. Under 12 Del. Code § 3816(d), if a derivative action or a class action is successful, in whole or in part, or if anything is received by a statutory trust as a result of a judgment, compromise or settlement of any such action, the Court may award the plaintiff reasonable expenses, including reasonable attorney's fees for the common benefit achieved. Additionally, under the common fund doctrine in Delaware and Texas law, and Del. Ch. Ct. R. 23(g) and 23.1, and Tex. R. Civ. P. 42(h) and (i), a Court can award attorney's fees in a class or derivative action.

13. When evaluating the reasonableness of attorney's fees and expenses from a common fund in a derivative of class action case, courts have looked at the following factors: "1) the results achieved; 2) the time and effort of counsel; 3) the relative complexities of the litigation; 4) any contingency factor; and 5) the standing and ability of counsel involved." Ams. Mining Corp. v. Theriault, 51 A.3d 1213, 1254 (Del. 2012) (citing Sugarland Indus. v. Thomas, 420 A. 2d 142, 149 (Del. 1980); Crouch v. Tenneco, Inc., 853 S.W.2d 643, 647 (Tex. App.—Waco 1993, writ denied) (citing similar factors). Each of these factors favors an attorney's fees award of 30% of the Settlement Fund to be paid by Axonic.

14. The Court can take judicial notice of the (1) results achieved and (3) the relative complexities of the litigation. Generally, the Court indicated its intent to enter judgment on behalf of the Trust for $4,250,000 against Axonic Defendants for their wrongful actions in the sale of the Skyloft Apartments; the Settlement Fund doubles that amount. This case presented myriad legal and factual complexities. Procedurally, it requires dozens of depositions, over electronic 65,000 documents produced and reviewed, hundreds of trial exhibits, lengthy and complex summary judgment motion briefing, and a three week jury trial in the Original Action. My firm also pursued Axonic for secondary liability for securities fraud claims in class and mass actions in the Related Actions. Legally, it raised complex issues of duties applicable to Delaware statutory trusts and detailed analysis of Trust and financing agreements, and secondary liability of Axonic for securities claims arising out of statements made in the Offering Memoranda.

15. GBKH funds litigation expenses with a line of credit. I am a guarantor of that line. GBKH is small in size and I was personally involved in all stages of the litigation and conducted the depositions of adverse witnesses. This contingent representation factor, too, justifies an award of fees in the higher range.

16. The time and effort expended in the case is demonstrated in the attached billing and expense records.

17. It is my opinion that an attorneys' fee of 30% of all recovery awarded is appropriate in this case, together with as of now unreimbursed expenses in the amount of $77,506.22. One-half of such fee, and the entirety of such expenses, should be awarded to GBKH.

18. The attached billing records reflect hours worked and the billing rate. It is my opinion that the hours worked are reasonable, and that the billing rates are reasonable. My rate is $600 per hour. Associate time is billed at $350 per hour. Legal assistant rate time is billed at $150 hour.

19. An award of attorney's fees may include a legal assistant's time to the extent that the work performed "has traditionally been done by any attorney." Clary Corp. v. Smith, 949 S.W.2d 452, 469 (Tex. App.-Fort Worth 1997, writ denied). To recover attorney's fees for work performed by legal assistants, "the evidence must establish: (1) the qualifications of the legal assistant to perform substantive legal work; (2) that the legal assistant performed substantive legal work under the direction and supervision of an attorney; (3) the nature of the legal work performed; (4) the legal assistant's hourly rate; and (5) the number of hours expended by the legal assistant.” Multi-Moto Corp. v. ITT Commercial Fin. Corp., 806 S.W.2d 560, 570 (Tex. App.-Dallas 1990, writ denied).

- (1) Qualifications of the legal assistant.
- (2) Legal assistant performed substantive legal work under the direction and supervision of an attorney. Under the supervision of either my partner Russ Horton or myself, Suzy Nakamura and Kelly Seabolt assisted in drafting and responding to discovery, client communications and coordinating clients for attendance at depositions and trial, assisting in voluminous document production, and corresponding with court, clients and opposing counsels regarding scheduling and other legal matters as they arose throughout the case.
- (3) Nature of the legal work performed. See above.
- (4) Legal assistant's hourly rate and number of hours. Kelly Seabolt and Suzy Nakamura were billed out at a rate of $150 per hour. Given their experience and the nature of legal work performed under Russ Horton or my supervision, $150 per hour is a reasonable rate for their work.

20. In El Apple I, Ltd. v. Olivas, 370 S.W.3d 757, 760–61 (Tex. 2012) citing TEX.R. CIV. P. 42(i)(1), the Texas Supreme Court identified the following non-exclusive list of factors to be considered when awarding attorney’s fees in a class action pursuant to Tex. R. Civ. P. 42(i)(1):

- (1) the time and labor required, the novelty and difficulty of the questions involved, and the skill requisite to perform the legal service properly;
- (2) the likelihood, if apparent to the client, that the acceptance of the particular employment will preclude other employment by the lawyer;
- (3) the fee customarily charged in the locality for similar legal services;
- (4) the amount involved and the results obtained;
- (5) the time limitations imposed by the client or by the circumstances;
- (6) the nature and length of the professional relationship with the client;
- (7) the experience, reputation, and ability of the lawyer or lawyers performing the services; and
- (8) whether the fee is fixed or contingent on results obtained or uncertainty of collection before the legal services have been rendered.

21. The lodestar method is “the number of hours worked multiplied by the prevailing hourly rates.” J.C. Penney Co., Inc. 453 S.W.3d at 514 citing Gen. Motors, 916 S.W.2d at 960.

First the court must determine the reasonable hours spent by counsel in the case and a reasonable hourly rate for such work. Id. The court then multiplies the number of such hours by the applicable rate, the product of which is the base fee or lodestar. Id. This figure is then adjusted for such factors as the size or value of the recovery, the complexity of the litigation, the expertise of counsel, and the degree to which the attorney was precluded from accepting other work.

22. In forming an opinion regarding the reasonableness of attorney's fees—whether calculated by a lodestar approach or any other—it is appropriate to make reference to the factors set forth in Arthur Andersen & Co. v. Perry Equipment Corp., 945 S.W.2d 812, 818 (Tex. 1997); see also Johnson v. Georgia Highway Express, Inc., 488 F.2d 714, 717 (5th Cir. 1974), and TEX. DISCIPLINARY R. PROF'L CONDUCT R. 1.04. These factors include the time and labor required; the novelty and difficulty of the issues; the skill required to perform the legal services; whether other employment was precluded; the customary fee in the region; the amount involved and results obtained; any time limitations; the nature and length of the professional relationship with the client; the attorneys' experience, reputation, and skill; whether the fee is fixed or contingent; the "undesirability" of the case; and awards in similar cases.

- (1) Time and labor required. This case involved complex litigation on behalf of twenty-five investor clients. I have one partner, and our firm has one associate and three contract or of counsel attorneys. I personally handled most aspects of this litigation, including working with experts, taking and defending numerous depositions, and attending numerous discovery and/or dispositive hearings. Additionally, our small team of lawyers reviewed over 800,000 pages of document production. The extensive amount of time and focus that this case required significantly limited any bandwidth I had to take on new clients in the year preceding trial.
- (2) Likelihood that the acceptance of the particular employment will preclude other employment by the lawyer: In the year leading up to trial In the months leading up to trial, this case took up a significant amount of my time and allowed my days were consumed with investor depositions, trial preparation

- (3) Fees were customary. Based on my experience, the fees we charged in this case are similar to those fees customarily charged in the locality for similar legal services by attorneys having similar experience.
- (4) Contingency fee. As previously stated, my firm is small in size. My partner and I were involved in all stages of the litigation and conducted the depositions of adverse witnesses. In addition, I personally guaranteed my firm's line of credit, which financed case expenses. The contingent representation factor justifies a substantial award of fees.
- (5) Experience and ability of the lawyer or lawyers performing the services: Despite the fact that counsel for Intervenor was by far outnumbered by counsel for Plaintiffs and Defendants, Intervenor's counsel brought a blend of expertise, initiative, and ingenuity to the case causing Intervenor to ultimately prevail in this matter.

23. Alternatively, and should Texas law apply to the award of fees, it is my opinion that a Lodestar calculation of the remaining unpaid hourly rate fees should be applied in this case, the Lodestar base fee is $956,332.31 to GBKH. Applying a Lodestar premium of only 2% results in an approximate fee of $975,000. It is my opinion that, if the Lodestar method is used, that sum is the appropriate fee for GBKH. In addition, GBKH is entitled to recover expenses in the amount of $77,506.22.

"My name is D. Douglas Brothers, my date of birth is March 29, 1955, and my address is 114 West 7th Street, Suite 625 Austin, Texas 78701. I declare under penalty of perjury that the facts stated in this document are true and correct."

Executed in Travis County, State of Texas, on November 5, 2024.

DECLARATION OF ROBERT BROWNLIE IN SUPPORT OF ATTORNEYS' FEES

My name is Robert W. Brownlie. My date of birth is March 5, 1962 and my address is 10920 Via Frontera, Suite 550, San Diego, California 92127. I make this statement based on my personal knowledge and I declare under the penalty of perjury that the following is correct:

1. I am an attorney licensed to practice before the courts of the State of California and am a partner in the firm of Brownlie Hansen LLP (“BH”). My resume is attached hereto as Exhibit A.

2. I submit this Declaration in support of (1) the Motion for Final Approval of the Stipulation of Settlement with the Axonic Defendants and (2) the Motion for Attorneys’ Fees and Expenses and Class Representative Service Awards.

3. I am counsel of record for plaintiff James V. Parziale in the above-referenced matter. I also represent approximately 150 Class Members who were investors in NP Skyloft, DST (the “Trust”), owning approximately 58% in interest in the Trust. I was appointed by the Court as co-Class Counsel along with George Brothers Kincaid & Horton in the Preliminary Order of Approval of the Settlement Stipulation.

4. I am admitted pro hac vice and have associated Jennifer A. Lloyd of Miller Lloyd P.C. (“MLPC”) as local counsel in Austin, Texas. Her resume is attached hereto as Exhibit B.

5. This declaration is submitted pursuant to Section 5(a) of the Settlement Stipulation to seek Court approval of attorneys’ fees and expenses from the Settlement Fund to be paid by Axonic. I have not authored any publications in the last 10 years. I have not, to the best of my recollection, testified as a retained expert in the past 4 years, other than as an attorney of record on the issue of attorney’s fees.

6. The subject matter of my testimony is the reasonable and necessary attorney’s fees and costs incurred by the Class and Trust.

7. My opinions are based on the terms of my engagement, my experience in Delaware and Texas derivative and class litigation, the applicable factors under Delaware and Texas law as discussed below, and the expenses actually incurred by my firm that have not yet been reimbursed.

8. I concentrate my practice on complex business, securities, and corporate litigation, particularly class action and derivative litigation. Among other relevant experience, I served as Co-Chair of the American Bar Association's Securities Litigation Committee and Editor of the Class Actions and Derivative Suits Newsletter, the Co-Chair of DLA Piper's Global Securities Litigation Practice Group and the Chair of the Gray Cary Securities Litigation Practice Group. I have represented parties in derivative cases in California, Delaware, Texas, Arizona, Nevada, Michigan, New York and other jurisdictions. I have argued and won a key case before the California Supreme Court on standing to maintain derivative suits and choice of law in cases involving Delaware corporations, Grosset v. Wenaas, 42 Cal. 4th 1100 (2008), and have had another derivative case before the California Supreme Court, which reviewed derivative suit standing in cases involving non-profit corporations, Turner v. Victoria, 15 Cal.5th 99 (2023). I have also tried and won for my clients a derivative suit in the Orange County, California Superior Court, Alexandros v. KOR Electronics, Inc., et al. And I tried for my clients and won a direct action seeking to invalidate a substantial equity grant in the Delaware Chancery Court, and In re Genelux Corp., 126 A.3d 644 (Del. Ch. 2015), vacated in part sub nom. Genelux Corp. v. Roeder, 143 A.3d 20 (Del. 2016).

9. I am a partner in the firm of Brownlie Hansen LLP. The firm currently has two partners, two associates, three contract "of counsel" attorneys, and two paralegals.

10. I am also counsel of record in four cases that my firm filed in state and federal court in California against the Axonic Defendants and others related to NP Skyloft DST. Those cases are: Parziale v. Nelson, et al., No. 2:21-cv-01803 (C.D. Cal.) (dismissed); Puleo, et al. v. Nelson, et al., No. 2:21-cv-06443 (C.D. Cal.); Ames, et al. v. Nelson, et al., No. 2:22-cv-09400 (C.D. Cal.); and Collins v. NP Skyloft ST, LLC, et al., No. 30-2021-01184473-CU-MC-CXC (Cal. Sup. Ct., Orange Cnty.) (the “Related Actions”). These cases will also be resolved in the Settlement Stipulation with Axonic.

11. My firm intervened in Cause No. D-1-GN-21-000097 in Travis County District Court (the “Original Action”) on behalf of James Parziale, after we filed the first derivative case in California in January 2021. Eventually, my firm undertook representation of approximately 150 investors in the Trust, representing approximately 58% by interest of the investors. My firm has a hybrid reduced hourly rate/contingency arrangement with its clients. Pursuant to agreement with co-Class Counsel, my firm is entitled to one-half of attorneys’ fees awarded by the Court (in addition to expenses advanced by my firm).

12. As is customary, the professionals at my firm and MLPC contemporaneously recorded their time. The billing records reflect the name of the professional, the task, the billing rate, and the time expended. These billing records, lightly redacted to remove reference to privileged matters are attached as Exhibit C to this Declaration. The billing records of MLPC are attached as Exhibit D to this Declaration.

13. In addition, the expenses incurred by the firm are recorded in the usual fashion. Such unreimbursed expenses are listed on the attached Exhibit E.

Application of Common Fund Factors under Delaware Law and Texas Law

14. Under 12 Del. Code § 3816(d), if a derivative action is successful, in whole or in part, or if anything is received by a statutory trust as a result of a judgment, compromise or settlement of any such action, the Court may award the plaintiff reasonable expenses, including reasonable attorney's fees for the common benefit achieved. Additionally, under the common fund doctrine in Delaware and Texas law, and Del. Ch. Ct. R. 23(g) and 23.1, and Tex. R. Civ. P. 42(h) and (i), a Court can award attorney's fees in a class or derivative action.

15. When evaluating the reasonableness of attorney's fees and expenses from a common fund in a derivative of class action case, courts have looked at the following factors: "1) the results achieved; 2) the time and effort of counsel; 3) the relative complexities of the litigation; 4) any contingency factor; and 5) the standing and ability of counsel involved." Ams. Mining Corp. v. Theriault, 51 A.3d 1213, 1254 (Del. 2012) (citing Sugarland Indus. v. Thomas, 420 A. 2d 142, 149 (Del. 1980); Crouch v. Tenneco, Inc., 853 S.W.2d 643, 647 (Tex. App.—Waco 1993, writ denied)(citing similar factors). Each of these factors favors an attorney's fees award of 30% of the Settlement Fund to be paid by Axonic.

16. The Court can take judicial notice of the (1) results achieved and (3) the relative complexities of the litigation. Generally, the Court indicated its intent to enter judgment on behalf of the Trust for $4,250,000 against Axonic Defendants for their wrongful actions in the sale of the Skyloft Apartments; the Settlement Fund doubles that amount. This case presented myriad legal and factual complexities. Procedurally, it requires dozens of depositions, over electronic 65,000 documents produced and reviewed, hundreds of trial exhibits, lengthy and complex summary judgment motion briefing, and a three week jury trial in the Original Action. My firm also pursued Axonic for secondary liability for securities fraud claims in class and mass actions in the Related Actions. Legally, it raised complex issues of duties applicable to Delaware statutory trusts and detailed analysis of Trust and financing agreements, and secondary liability of Axonic for securities claims arising out of statements made in the Offering Memoranda.

17. The attached billing and expense records of BH and ML demonstrate the second factor, (2) the time and effort expended in the case.

18. BH has advanced substantial out of pocket expenses for the prosecution of this and other cases on behalf of the investors in NP Skyloft, DST. Some of those expenses have been reimbursed our clients and our clients paid a substantially discounted hourly rate for the first three months of the filing of our initial case in February 2021. BH and MLPC are small in size and I and Ms. Lloyd were personally involved in all stages of the litigation and attended all depositions, hearings, and the trial. Both firms were required to turn away other business due to the time commitments of this case. This contingent representation factor, too, justifies an award of fees in the higher range.

Under a percentage recovery method, it is my opinion that an attorneys' fee of thirty percent of the Settlement Fund to be paid by Axonic is appropriate in this case overall. One-half of such fee, together with expenses for BH in the amount of $85,966.02, is reasonable and well within ranges of fees awarded in similar cases. Thus, such a percentage award is within the range of awards in similar class and derivative actions and is reasonable and necessary.

Application of Additional Factors for Lodestar Calculation Cross-Check

14. The attached billing records reflect hours worked at my firm's standard rates. During the period of time covered by such records, my standard rate was $795 and $850, and Ms. Lloyd's was $450 an hour. It is my opinion that the hours worked are reasonable and that even at $850.00 is at the very low end of reasonable for a case this complex, and that my standard rate and Ms. Lloyd's standard rate are more reasonable, especially when considering that my standard rate at DLA Piper LLP (US) at the time I left that firm in 2020 was $1295 per hour.

15. My billing records reflect work of Kori Kempton, Veronica Collins and Tammy King, who were during the time covered by this application were paralegals in my firm. To recover attorney's fees for work performed by legal assistants, “the evidence must establish: (1) the qualifications of the legal assistant to perform substantive legal work; (2) that the legal assistant performed substantive legal work under the direction and supervision of an attorney; (3) the nature of the legal work performed; (4) the legal assistant's hourly rate; and (5) the number of hours expended by the legal assistant.” Multi-Moto Corp. v. ITT Commercial Fin. Corp., 806 S.W.2d 560, 570 (Tex.App.-Dallas 1990, writ denied).

- (1) Qualifications. Kori Kempton, Tammy King and Veronica Collins are California certified paralegals with substantial experience. Veronica Collins has substantial experience in plaintiffs’ litigation. Kori Kempton is a seasoned paralegal with substantial experience in complex business and intellectual property litigation. At DLA Piper, Kori Kempton worked with lawyers across the country to assist them in preparing cases for trial and trying cases. Similarly, Tammy King has substantial litigation experience at DLA Piper and in my firm.
- (2) Legal assistant performed substantive legal work under the direction and supervision of an attorney. Under the supervision of either myself or Ms. Lloyd, Ms. Kempton, Ms. King and Ms. Collins assisted in drafting and responding to discovery, client communications, voluminous document production, searching, and analysis and document database management, scheduling, and corresponding with court, clients and opposing counsels regarding matters as they arose throughout the case.
- (3) Nature of the legal work performed. See above and billing records attached.
- (4) Legal assistant's hourly rate and number of hours. Ms. Kempton, Ms. King and Ms. Collins’ standard rates were $275, $265 and $245 per hour, respectively. Given their experience and the nature of legal work performed under my supervision, such hourly rates are reasonable rates for their work.

16. In El Apple I, Ltd. v. Olivas, 370 S.W.3d 757, 760–61 (Tex. 2012), the Texas Supreme Court identified the following non-exclusive list of factors to be considered when awarding attorney’s fees in a class action pursuant to Tex. R. Civ. P. 42(i)(1):

- (1) the time and labor required, the novelty and difficulty of the questions involved, and the skill requisite to perform the legal service properly;
- (2) the likelihood, if apparent to the client, that the acceptance of the particular employment will preclude other employment by the lawyer;
- (3) the fee customarily charged in the locality for similar legal services;
- (4) the amount involved and the results obtained;
- (5) the time limitations imposed by the client or by the circumstances;

- (6) the nature and length of the professional relationship with the client;
- (7) the experience, reputation, and ability of the lawyer or lawyers performing the services; and
- (8) whether the fee is fixed or contingent on results obtained or uncertainty of collection before the legal services have been rendered.

See also Arthur Andersen & Co. v. Perry Equipment Corp., 945 S.W.2d 812, 818 (Tex. 1997) and Tex. Disc. R. Prof'l Conduct 1.04 (citing same 8 factors). In my opinion, these factors support applying a multiple to the base lodestar rate incurred by Plaintiffs in this case.

- (1) Time and labor required; novelty and difficulty of issues; skill required; . This case involved complex derivative litigation on behalf of the Trust against multiple entities alleged to have participated in the wrongdoing. Additionally, the class and direct claims asserted in the Related Actions in California involved complex issues of secondary actor liability for statements made in Offering Memoranda against Axonic. My firm and MLPC handled this case very leanly. I personally handled most aspects of this litigation and the Related Actions, including analyzing the legal and factual issues, taking and defending depositions, researching and briefing dispositive motions, and attending numerous discovery and/or dispositive hearings and the trial.
- (2) Preclusion of other employment by the lawyer: This case took up a significant amount of my and Ms. Lloyd's time in briefing, depositions, hearings, and post-verdict negotiations, and required that we decline other employment and postpone several trial or arbitration dates in other matters handled by my firm.
- (3) Fees were customary. Based on my experience, the fees we charged in this case are similar to those fees customarily charged in the locality for similar legal services by attorneys having similar experience.
- (4) The amount involved and the results obtained; The litigation involved Class Members who invested approximately $75,000,000 in a Trust; the Settlement Fund to be paid by Axonic will allow recovery of $9,000,000.
- (5) Time limitations: This Original Action moved to trial in Texas under two years, from filing in January 2021 to Parziale's intervention in September 2021 to trial in April 2022 and post-verdict rulings in October 2022. Since the end of 2022, we have engaged in mediation and protracted negotiations with Axonic over the Settlement Stipulation.
- (6) Experience and ability of the lawyer or lawyers performing the services: I have extensive experience in derivative and class action cases, including under Delaware law and in Chancery Court, and Ms. Lloyd has similar experience in addition to experience in the trial courts of Travis County. We handled these cases leanly, against numerous counsel Defendants, but our expertise and initiative resulted in a jury award on behalf of the Trust.

Additionally, in my opinion, my efforts in the Related Actions in California on securities claims helped increase the amount of the Settlement Fund.

- (7) Contingency fee and uncertainty of collection. As previously stated, my firm and MLPC are small in size and Ms. Lloyd and I were involved in all stages of the litigation and post-verdict negotiations. I was engaged on a hybrid reduced hourly rate/contingency fee basis that involved substantial risk of recovery for our firms. The contingent representation factor justifies a substantial award of fees.

17. In sum, to the extent the Court uses the lodestar as a cross-check on the percentage of recovery calculation, the total, unreimbursed lodestar base at BH and ML's standard rates is $1,106,143.71 (BH) and $ 200,028.28 (ML), for a total of unreimbursed fees of $1,306,171.99. This amount represents 1.03 times one of half of the requested fees, or a multiplier of 1.03 times the regular billable hours rates to the lodestar base for counsel. Additionally, BH and ML incurred unreimbursed expenses in the amount of $85,966.02. An award of fees with a multiplier of 1.03 on the unreimbursed lodestar base plus an award of the unreimbursed expenses are not only reasonable, but fall on the low end for the range, especially for a case of this complexity and duration and was actually tried to a jury resulting in a favorable verdict.

Executed in San Diego, California on November 5, 2024.

Robert Brownlie concentrates in the representation of corporations and their officers and directors in complex business, securities and corporate litigation, particularly class action and derivative litigation, and related Securities and Exchange Commission and criminal investigations and enforcement actions.

He argued and won Grosset v. Wenaas, 42 Cal. 4th 1100 (2008), a case before the California Supreme Court, clarifying a key standing requirement for derivative suits in California and the choice of law analysis for California-headquartered companies incorporated in Delaware.

EXPERIENCE

Federal Securities Cases

- Mauss v. NuVasive, Inc. NuVasive involves a securities class action lawsuit filed in the US District Court for the Southern District of California for alleged violations of Section 10(b) of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934. The case was filed on the heels of the Company's announcement that it was the subject of an investigation into potential violations of the federal healthcare fraud and abuse laws. The case has settled.
- Perrin v. SouthWest Water Company. SouthWest Water involved a securities class action suit filed in the US District Court for the Central District of California for alleged violations of Section 10(b) of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 and Section 11 of the Securities Act of 1933 arising from a restatement of the Company's financial statements. The district court granted our motion to dismiss the plaintiffs' Second Consolidated and Amended Complaint with prejudice and without leave to amend on all claims as to all defendants. The dismissal of the Section 10(b) claim was affirmed by the Ninth Circuit Court of Appeals. On remand, the district court granted our motion to summary judgment on the Section 11 claim and again denied leave to amend. The decision was affirmed by the Ninth Circuit Court of Appeals
- In re REMEC Inc. Securities Litigation. REMEC is a securities class action filed in the US District Court for the Southern District of California. The court granted two motions to dismiss with leave to amend: In re REMEC Inc. Securities Litigation, 388 F. Supp. 2d 1170 (S.D. Cal. 2005) and In re REMEC Inc.

Cal. 1996)) and first dismissal with prejudice in California under the Act. (Zeid v. Kimberley, 973 F. Supp. 910 (N.D. Cal. 1997)). The case was appealed to the Ninth Circuit Court of Appeal, which remanded the case to the district court for further consideration. The district court again dismissed the lawsuit. The trial court decision has been affirmed by the Ninth Circuit Court of Appeals
- In re CIENA Corporation Securities Litigation. CIENA was a securities class action filed by Milberg Weiss in the US District Court for the District of Maryland. CIENA had conducted one of the largest initial public offerings in history. It was subsequently sued by several of its shareholders for securities fraud. The district court granted our motion to dismiss the case. In re CIENA Corporation Securities Litigation, 99 F. Supp. 2d 650 (D. Md. 2000). The plaintiffs did not appeal the decision
- In re JDA Software Group Securities Litigation. JDA was a securities class action filed by Milberg Weiss in the US District Court for the District of Arizona. The case alleged claims for securities fraud under Section 10(b) of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 and violations of the Securities Act of 1933. This case was dismissed on the first motion to dismiss heard by the court. The plaintiffs did not appeal the decision
- pcOrder.com, Inc. Shareholder Litigation. This involved a series of case filed in state and federal court in Austin, Texas that initially attempted to block a tender offer to the shareholders of pcOrder.com, Inc. We were retained by the Special Committee of the board of directors of pcOrder.com, Inc. and successfully overcame the shareholders' attempt to block the tender offer. After the tender offer and merger closed, a second series of lawsuits were filed in the US District Court for the Western District of Texas alleging violations of the Securities Act of 1933 in connection with pcOrder.com, Inc.'s initial and secondary public offerings. The court denied plaintiffs' motion for class certification and found that Milberg Weiss was could not adequately represent the class in Krim v. pcOrder.com, Inc., 210 F.R.D. 581 (W.D. Tex. 2002). - In re Informix Securities Litigation. Informix was a securities class action filed by Milberg Weiss in the US District Court for the Northern District of California and a shareholder derivative lawsuit in California state court. We represented an individual defendant in all of the cases. This case has been settled without payment by our client

- Steckman v. Hart Brewing. Hart Brewing was a securities class action filed in state and federal court in San Diego. It resulted in the first dismissal with prejudice after the enactment of the Private Securities Litigation Reform Act of 1995. The case was dismissed on the initial round of motions. Steckman v. Hart Brewing, Inc., Fed. Sec. L. Rep. (CCH) ¶ 99,420 (S.D. Cal. Dec. 24, 1996). The Ninth Circuit Court of Appeals affirmed the dismissal in Steckman v. Hart Brewing, Inc., 143 F.3d 1293 (9th Cir. 1998)
- Powers v. Proxima Corporation. These cases involved a series of shareholder class actions filed by Milberg Weiss in state and federal court in San Diego. Several claims, including all claims asserted against some of Proxima's former officers, were dismissed in the first round of motions (Powers v. Eichen, Fed. Sec. L. Rep. (CCH) ¶ 99,483 (S.D. Cal. Mar. 13, 1997)) and achieved a stay of discovery while motions for reconsideration were pending (Powers v. Eichen, 961 F. Supp. 233 (S.D. Cal. 1997)). The cases have settled
- Miller v. NTN Communications, Inc. NTN involved a securities class action filed in federal court in San Diego. We represent NTN and its present and former officers and directors. The district court granted in part and denied in part NTN's motion to dismiss. This case has settled
- Lefkowitz v. NTN Communications, Inc. Lefkowitz involved another securities class action filed in the San Diego federal court in which we represented NTN and its present and former officers and directors. We persuaded the plaintiffs to voluntarily dismiss the case for no consideration soon after it was served
- Miller v. Telios Pharmaceuticals, Inc. We represented the directors and officers of Telios Pharmaceuticals in this securities class action filed by Milberg Weiss in the federal court in the Southern District of California alleging misrepresentations in a recent preferred stock offering. The case was settled below policy limits and below cost of defense with insurance benefits
- Robbins v. Hometown Buffet. This case involved a securities class action filed in federal court in San Diego by the Milberg Weiss firm attacking a public offering. We were selected to represent one of the underwriters, Alex. Brown & Sons, Inc. The firm persuaded Milberg Weiss to dismiss the action against our client without payment of any kind
- Schneier v. Aldila, Inc., et al. This securities class action was filed in federal court in San Diego by the Milberg Weiss firm challenging a public offering. We represented one of the underwriters, Alex. Brown & Sons, Inc. We persuaded the Milberg Weiss firm to dismiss the action against our client without payment of any kind
- Benedict v. August Financial. This case was a securities class action filed in federal court in San Diego. Investors alleged that there were materially misleading statements made in the prospectus upon which they based their decision to invest in a series of real estate limited partnerships. We were selected to represent the law firm sued in the case and won the case on summary judgment

Mergers and Acquisition and Corporate Fiduciary Litigation

- Borta v. Lucier. This case involved a shareholder derivative suit filed in the San Diego Superior Court against the board of directors and management of NuVasive, Inc., alleging breach of fiduciary duty arising from a government investigation and settlement. We challenged the plaintiff's standing to proceed derivatively on behalf of NuVasive through a demurrer. After two rounds, the court sustained our demurrer without leave to amend and entered judgment in favor of defendants and awarded costs against the plaintiff

- Nonprofit Foundation Derivative Suit. This case involves an alleged shareholder derivative suit against the members of the board of directors of a nonprofit public benefit corporation, which is one of the largest charitable foundations ever located in San Diego County. We represent the foundation and have challenged the plaintiff's standing to proceed derivatively on behalf of the foundation. The case is currently pending
- Garfield v. DTS, Inc. This case involved a shareholder class action case filed in the Ventura County, California Superior Court seeking to enjoin the closing of a tender offer. The motion for the injunction was contested and, after a hearing, the court denied the Plaintiff's motion. The case was then dismissed
- Lehn v. Multi-Fineline Electronix, Inc. This case involved a shareholder class action case filed in the US District Court for the Central District of California alleging claims under Section 14(a) of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, claiming that a proxy statement issued for a proposed merger was materially false and misleading. The case was voluntarily dismissed after the claims were mooted
- Alexandros v. KOR Electronics. This case involved a shareholder derivative suit filed on behalf of KOR Electronics filed in the Orange County Superior Court alleging breach of fiduciary duty arising from a recapitalization. After a three week trial, the court found for the defendants on all claims and ordered the plaintiff to pay attorneys' fees and costs to the defendants
- Burt v. Rubio. This litigation involved shareholder class action cases filed in the Delaware Chancery Court and the San Diego Superior Court alleging breach of fiduciary duty involving the sale of Rubio's Restaurants, Inc. to a private equity fund. The cases were voluntarily dismissed without settlement
- Sherman v. Christie. This case involved a shareholder derivative suit on behalf of SouthWest Water Corporation filed in the Los Angeles Superior Court alleging breach of fiduciary duty following the Company's restatement of its financial statements. The court sustained the defendants' demurrer on the grounds that the plaintiff had failed to adequately allege demand futility. The plaintiff declined to file an amended complaint and the case was dismissed
- Hess v. Heckmann. This case involves a shareholder derivative suit filed in the Riverside County Superior Court on behalf of Heckmann Corporation arising from the Company's acquisition of a company in the People's Republic of China
- Grosset v. Wenaas, et al. This case involved a shareholder derivative suit involving JNI Corporation. The plaintiff sought to recover damages for breach of fiduciary duty and insider trading. The San Diego Superior Court sustained our demurrers with leave to amend, but allowed the case to proceed. The case was dismissed through a special litigation committee's investigation and motion to dismiss. The plaintiff appealed. The Court of Appeal dismissed the appeal because the plaintiff sold his stock in a cash merger of JNI into another company. The California Supreme Court granted review of the decision and later affirmed, holding that standing to bring a derivative suit requires a plaintiff to own stock in the subject company continuously throughout the litigation. Grosset v. Wenaas, 42 Cal. 4th 1100 (2008)

- Stanley v. i2 Technologies, Inc. This case involved an alleged shareholder class action suit filed in Dallas County District Court that sought to enjoin a shareholder meeting of i2 Technologies, Inc. to consider a proposed merger of i2 Technologies. The court denied the shareholders' motion to enjoin the meeting. The shareholders then voluntarily dismissed their case
- Cyber Dyne Liquidating Corporation v. All Optical Networks, Inc. This case involved a shareholder derivative suit alleging breach of fiduciary duty relating to a "down-round" financing. After three rounds of demurrers arguing that plaintiff lacked standing to proceed because it failed to adequately allege demand futility, plaintiff abandoned the case. Thereafter, our clients sued the plaintiff and its counsel for malicious prosecution and recovered approximately US$1 million from plaintiffs' counsel
- Chen v. Net Solve, Incorporated. This case was a class action filed in the Travis County, Texas District Court to enjoin the merger of Net Solve, Incorporated into Cisco Systems, Inc. The merger proceeded and closed unimpeded by the lawsuit. Plaintiffs then voluntarily dismissed the case without settlement or payment
